Violence against women – particularly intimate partner violence and sexual violence – is a major public health problem and a violation of women's human rights. Violence against women is preventable. The health sector has an important role to play to provide comprehensive health care to women subjected to violence, and as an entry point for referring women to other support services they may need. The session mainly focused on addressing violence against women and children and how it can be prevented, role of health sector in protecting women right against violence has been discussed in detail. The session was helpful for the students. And everyone actively participated.

About KESS

Kuriakose Elias Service Society (KESS) has traversed 47 noble years of relentless commitment and social service. Responsive to changes in the global scenario, KESS promotes developmental initiatives among the deprived and the vulnerable, based on democratic values, human rights and humanitarianism.

KESS undertakes community mobilization, and empowers it through life skills and appropriate livelihood systems. Taking special care of the downtrodden and marginalized and extending a comforting hand to the vulnerable sections of society, KESS continues to be a beacon of light and hope for many.

KESS For Youth

KESS Vocational Training Institute is an initiative to address poverty through the empowerment of youth who are underprivileged due to various reasons. It is a known fact that skillful youth are not only an asset to the family but also for the society at large, contributing towards national progress. Seeking this aspect, KESS provides vocational courses like Computer Accounting, Multimedia, Desktop Publishing, Fashion Designing and Hotel Management which are of high demand among the employers, providing early job opportunities with decent prospects of growth and earning. The curriculum of the vocational training institute has a wider scope, focusing more on skills and values to develop potential workforce and meet the contemporary challenges of the work world.
